Privacy

We pledge to meet fully, and where possible exceed, internationally recognized standards of personal data privacy protection. Couinos.io may change the terms of this policy from time to time. You should check the page to make sure you are agree with the terms.

We May Collect the Following Information:

- Your browsing data obtained through the use of cookies;

What We Do with the Information We Gather:

We analyze the information we gather to learn more about how Counos.io visitors use the site and what content they prefer.

We may use the information to analyze activity and determine preferences of Counos.io visitors from a particular location as determined by IP address. At the same time, we encourage the use TOR or a proxy as a method for users to opt-out of this form of data collection.

If you provide us your email and opt-in, we may send you newsletters and emails about other organizations, events, products or other information which we think you may find interesting using the email address which you have provide.

Security

We are committed to ensuring that your information is secure. In order to prevent unauthorized access or disclosure, we have put in place suitable physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect online.

(a) What are cookies

As is common practice with almost all professional websites, this site uses cookies, which are tiny files that are saved to your web browser, to improve your experience and to enable certain features, such as authentication. This page describes what information they gather, how we use it and why we sometimes need to store these cookies. We will also share how you can prevent these cookies from being stored, however this may downgrade or 'break' certain elements of the sites functionality.

Cookies may be either "persistent" cookies or "session" cookies: a persistent cookie will be stored by a web browser and will remain valid until its set expiry date, unless deleted by the user before the expiry date; a session cookie, on the other hand, will expire at the end of the user session, when the web browser is closed.

Cookies do not typically contain any information that personally identifies a user, but personal information that we store about you may be linked to the information stored in and obtained from cookies.

For more general information on cookies see the Wikipedia article on HTTP Cookies.

(b) Cookies that we use

If you create an account with us then we will use cookies for the management of the signup process, for general administration and for preventing abuse and misuse of our services.

We use cookies when you are logged in so that we can remember this fact. This prevents you from having to log in every single time you visit a new page. These cookies are typically removed or cleared when you log out to ensure that you can only access restricted features and areas when logged in.

When you submit data through a form such as those found on contact pages or comment forms, cookies may be set to remember your user details for future correspondence. In order to provide you with a great experience on this site, we provide the functionality to set your preferences for how this site runs when you use it. In order to remember your preferences we need to set cookies so that this information can be called whenever you interact with a page that is affected by your preferences.

We run an affiliate programme and as a part of it affiliates advertise our site and services. With the affiliate programme we use tracking cookies to track users who visit our site through one of our affiliate partner sites in order to credit them appropriately, and where applicable, allow our affiliate partners to provide you any bonus for making a purchase.

(c) Cookies used by our service providers

We use Google Analytics to analyse the use of our website. Google Analytics gathers information about website use by means of cookies. The information gathered relating to our website is used to create reports about the use of our website and how we might improve your experience. These cookies may track things such as how long you spend on the site and the pages that you visit. Google's privacy policy is available at: https://www.google.com/policies/privacy/.

In addition, Cloudflare will add a security cookie to any domain or subdomain that is being proxied by our service.

(d) Managing cookies

You can prevent the setting of cookies by adjusting the settings on your browser (see your browser Help for how to do this). Disabling cookies will result in disabling all functionality and features of this site. Therefore it is recommended that you do not disable cookies.

Links to Other Websites

Our website may contain links to other websites of interest. However, once you have used these links to leave our site, you should note that we do not have any control over that other website. Therefore, we cannot be responsible for the protection and privacy of any information which you provide whilst visiting such sites and such sites are not governed by this privacy statement. You should exercise caution and look at the privacy statement applicable to the website in question.
